- You have 150 minutes (2.5 hours) to complete this exam once you download it from Gradescope, plus another 30 minutes to convert your answers to a PDF and upload them.
 - You must complete and upload the exam before noon on Saturday.
 - You may either write your answers by hand or type your answers into any word processor.
 - This is a closed book exam. You may not use your computer for anything other than word processing, and you may not consult any other sources.
 - All intended answers will fit in the space provided — clarity is more important than length. Be sure to mark your answers clearly. The most credit will be given for the most concise, elegant, and complete answers.
 - Be sure to give yourself enough time to answer each question — the points should help you manage your time. If you do not understand what part of a question is asking, answer it as best you can and state any assumptions you are making in your answer.
 - If you encounter any technology problems downloading, uploading, or viewing the exam, please contact me as soon as possible so that we can address it.
 - Submission of your work will be considered acknowledgement that you adhered to these rules and the honor code.
 - You may not discuss any aspect of this exam with anyone except me until after the entire exam period is over. This includes students enrolled in the class, other students, other faculty, etc. If asked about the exam, the only acceptable response is “I’m not allowed to discuss it.”
